

THE ASSOCIATION OF ANAESTHETISTS
of Great Britain & Ireland

Blood conservation in cardiac surgery

In Association with (ACTA):

Tuesday 01 June 2010

Organiser: Dr Andrew Klein, Cambridge

- 10:00 Registration and coffee
- 10:30 Introduction
Dr Andrew Klein, Cambridge
- 10:40 Plasma derived products – the future or the past?
(fibrinogen, prothrombin concentrate and others)
Dr Benny Sorensen, Guys and St Thomas Hospitals, London
- 11:20 Cell salvage – is routine use justified?
Dr Andrew Klein, Cambridge
- 12:00 Cardiac surgery itself – every red cell is precious
Mrs Catherine Sudarshan, Cambridge
- 12:45 Lunch
- 13:45 Identifying /quantifying coagulopathy – point of care vs laboratory
Dr Martin Besser, Cambridge
- 14:30 New drugs – can they prevent or stop bleeding?
What is around and what is coming soon
Dr Ravi Gill, Southampton
- 15:15 How much do you know about blood? - Prize quiz
Dr Andrew Klein, Cambridge & Mrs Catherine Sudarshan
- 16:00 Depart

Registration Fees: AAGBI Members £120, GAT Members £80, Retired Members £60, Non-members £240