Global Anaesthesia Partnerships

These Maps indicate the locations of Anaesthesia related projects that have been carried out worldwide by respondents to the Survey of Anaesthesia Global Collaboration carried out by The Association of Anaesthetists of Great Britain and Ireland & Tropical Health & Education Trust, which was reported on in December 2013. We are grateful to all participants and we hope all future projects will continue to be added to the database. Collaboration with other specialities (e.g. Royal College of Surgeons) and other countries (for details of the national Associations of the countries concerned go to http://www.wfsahq.org) is in the pipeline.

A formal report of the survey with recommendations will follow and our aim is that this will also lead on to a Good Practice Guide.

There are many UK anaesthetists working on anaesthetic collaborative projects in the developing world. These projects range from short surgical camps and long-term educational links, to longer volunteer placements. Though local circumstances naturally differ, many of these projects have the same broad aims of improving safe anaesthetic delivery by using generic educational resources and programmes.

As this work continues to grow it makes sense to increase our collaboration between projects. On behalf of the Association of Anaesthetists of Great Britain & Ireland (AAGBI) and the Tropical Health Education Trust (THET), we aim to produce a comprehensive 'map' of UK overseas/developing world anaesthetic projects, hence a pool of experts and a library of online educational resources.
